

HOBBY HORSES GIVE FINE EXHIBITION OF REAL RACY ROCKING

Prominent Men Mount Dobbins for Edification of National Press Club Members.

Five tired hobby horses are resting today and five distinguished riders and a starter, as well as several hundred members of the National Press Club, are convinced that "hobby nights" are growing better each year.

The club room was turned into a make-believe race track last night, and men who are prominent in the world of science, dramatics, music, literature, and politics were asked to tell the public of their "hobbies."

Dr. William A. White, superintendent of the Government Hospital for the Insane, said a man without a hobby wasn't worth while, and everybody proceeded to exploit one.

Secretary Meyer rode the biggest hobby of them all—battleships. Henry W. Savage, the dramatic producer, talked entertainingly of the drama, and in rather caustic terms of the New York critics. Edward B. Moore, Commissioner of Patents, rode a horse named "The Fascination of Inventions."

"The Fascination of Inventions," Dr. White was astride "Lunatics," and John Philip Sousa, the bandmaster, leaned somewhat to Sousa marches and patriotic music. "The Star-Spangled Banner," he said, had made a great hit in Russia, where the "Sousa Band" was on its recent trip around the world.

Alfred Henry Lewis was the "starter" of the occasion, and it was his function to introduce the hobby riders and to see that they came under the wire at the expiration of the allotted ten minutes.

Mr. Lewis was introduced by John T. Suter, president of the club.

The "races" were a bit late in starting because the electric lights suddenly failed the club. When a new fust was found, the hobby horses and their riders were all at the post and for more than an hour the Press Club rang with laughter as the distinguished guests of the evening took club members into their confidence regarding the beauties of having a hobby and sticking to it.

The talk concerned everything from battleships to lunatics, and from New York critics to the "Star-Spangled Banner"—meaning that the present had a diversified evening and "a large time."

WILSON INTIMATES HE WILL PICK BRYAN

Admits He Considers Commoner for Cabinet Post as Secretary of State.

What is regarded as a direct intimation that he intends to appoint William J. Bryan as Secretary of State has been given by Governor Wilson. In a statement at Trenton last night he admitted that Bryan's name was under consideration for this office. Half a dozen other names had been submitted for the position, he said, but he could not "remember" who they were.

Wilson denied Col. E. M. House bore to Bryan at Miami an offer of a Cabinet appointment.

Governor Wilson said he was not going to make up a Cabinet of college presidents when asked if he would pick men of practical experience.

Following a conference with Congressman Carter Glass, Wilson said he was glad to learn the currency bills would be ready for the extra session.

Regarding his Chicago speech, Governor Wilson said in Chicago that the banking system of this country stood convicted, I thought I had said that everybody knew before. Sometimes one's commonplaces startle the country. It seems that whenever I deliver a speech some one congratulates me on an idea that I know to be as old as Aristotle. The persons who congratulate me tell me that the idea never occurred to them before. Then I feel like going off and standing on my head."

Bryan's Cabinet Job Mere Inference, Says President-Elect

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 31.—According to President-elect Wilson, who came to Philadelphia this morning to visit his dentist, there is no justification for the inference that William J. Bryan is to be Secretary of State in the new Administration.

"I see that the morning papers declare definitely that Mr. Bryan is to be Secretary of State, and that I sent him a message by Colonel House," the governor said. "The story is based on the fact that I could not recall the names of other men who had been suggested to me for Secretary of State."

"There is no justification for any such inference. In the first place, I doubt if I could recall the names of the men who have been suggested for any Cabinet position. In the second place, I am not limited to suggestions in making up my Cabinet. I reserve the privilege of making some suggestions to myself, and I might appoint to places in my Cabinet men who have not been suggested to me at all."

"As to any definite conclusion concerning the Cabinet situation, I have not reached any decisions. I have not sent any message to Mr. Bryan by Colonel House or by anybody else."

Governor Wilson expected to go to New York this afternoon to have a "fitting" at a tailor shop where a week ago he ordered a new black cutaway frock suit for his inauguration.

NEW SUBURBAN CLUB WILL BE ORGANIZED

Members Plan to Take Over
Property of Old Columbia
Golf Club.

The Washington Suburban Club will be formally launched Monday night, when the 200 charter members will meet in the Eighth Street Temple to elect permanent officers for the year. Temporary officers elected several weeks ago are D. J. Kaufman, chairman; A. D. Price, treasurer, and Morton J. Luchs, secretary.

The Washington Suburban Club has taken over the buildings and grounds of the Columbia Golf Club, and will begin work on improving the building next week. It is expected that the club house will be ready for occupancy by March 1, when a house warming will be given.

The eighteen-hole golf course of the old Columbia Golf Club is said by experts to be the best around Washington, and the new club will install a number of tennis courts. The interior of the house will be entirely renovated and what repairs and improvements needed to the outside will be done.

His Effort Was Vain.
NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—After nearly losing his life in an effort to save his $100,000, Frank A. Patava, rescued from a burning house, discovered that some one had stolen the rain stick.

OPENINGS IN HOME FOR WORKING BOYS

Superintendent Announces That Several Lads May Be Cared for at Institution.

James N. Belt, superintendent of the Working Boys' Home, 220 C street northwest, has announced that there are places for several more boys in the home which may be obtained by any working boy. There are at present twenty-five boys in the home, who are self-supporting and living comfortably because of this institution.

The home became possible when Mrs. Anna M. Mauley bequeathed the house now in use. Since the home was started a gymnasium has been installed and a library purchased. During the summer the boys are taken on camping trips.

The younger boys attend school in the neighborhood of the home and the older ones work. The latter are required to pay $2.50 a week for their board and room and the privileges of the home.

An effort is being made to secure a permanent income for the home by subscription of $25.00, which is the sum required to run the home for one day. Already thirty-nine of these days have been subscribed for. The home is also helped by membership fees in the Children's Aid Association, which are applied to its support.

BOSTON STUDENTS TO VISIT CAPITAL

Technology School Men Are Making Special Tour to See Practical Shipbuilding.

Twelve students of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in the department of agriculture and marine engineering will arrive in Washington Sunday on a tour of the shipbuilding plants of Philadelphia, New York, Washington, and Newport News. They will stop at the United States Naval Academy tomorrow.

The students are taking advantage of the midwinter recess to see practical work in shipbuilding and engineering. The trip was outlined by Prof. C. A. Peabody, head of the department, who gave the care of the outfiting into the charge of Assistant Prof. H. A. Everett.

The party left Boston yesterday and today is visiting the Brooklyn navy yard. All Monday will be spent in the navy yard here. Tomorrow's point will be visited Tuesday, where F. W. Wood, of the class of '71, president of the Maryland Steel Company, will make them welcome. Tuesday evening the party will leave Baltimore for Newport News, from which point they will return to Boston by sea.

His Bid for Custom.
LONDON, Jan. 31.—A tailor's window in Northampton displays this night "Monsieur's" habiliments fashionably fabricated, invisibly renovated, metamorphosed and departed.

No Test for Jobs Under Parcel Post

No examinations will be held by the Civil Service Commission to fill positions under the parcel post system, according to an announcement made today by the commission.

The announcement declares that many people have been misled by advertisements of correspondence schools to the effect that thousands of appointments would be made to positions in the parcel post system. "No such increase in the service is contemplated," the announcement says. "The duties required in connection with the administration of the law will be performed by the regular employees of the postal service, and if any additional employees are required they will be appointed to positions in the regular service. It is not contemplated that any examinations will be held, especially for the parcel post system."
